Week 2

Sunday School

We will miss you each week in Sunday School! Below is an example of something that we would be doing at church, but is something you can do easily at home with minimal supplies.

Today's Bible Story

Read Matthew 21: 1-11

Every year we celebrate Holy Week to remember that in ordinary times and in the most challenging times, God is present with us and at work creating new life. Things may look different afterward, there can be real loss, grief, and hardship, but we hold onto the promise of resurrection: new life will happen when the hard times have passed. So on this Palm Sunday, wherever we are, we wave our palms defiantly—finding joy and hope in the promise of new life and of Jesus with us.

Discussion

What helps you have hope when you face a difficult situation?

What stories do you remember when you feel worried, afraid, or uncertainty about the future?

What good news do you see right now?

Activity

Create signs that will help encourage others to have hope right now during this difficult time. Parade around your neighbourhood with your signs and noise makers, or go to your close friends and families house and stand outside!

Prayer

Dear Jesus, thank you for loving us so much and for coming to live among us in the world. Help us remember your love and the hope you bring as we journey with you during Holy Week. Amen.

Kintail podcasts and activities

As most of you are aware, Camp Kintail is a Presbyterian Church camp located on the shores of Lake Huron. Throughout the year they host various retreats, school groups and operate as a camp during the summer months. Everyday Camp Kintail is posting different activities, devotionals, songs, etc. on their Facebook page to keep families busy and spiritually connected right now. One great thing they are posting every couple of days is called Cha-Podcasts. These are not only created by current staff members, but alumni, other churches and even camps across North America. Every morning at camp there is Chapel time with skits, messages, songs, etc. Cha-Podcasts will now allow you to participate in Chapel from the comfort of your own living room! Check them out on Facebook for more information.
